Two Birmingham companies recently reached a milestone on a large residential development in South Carolina.

Brasfield & Gorrie said it has now topped out the Camperdown luxury apartment tower in Greenville, S.C. Birmingham-based Daniel Corp. is the developer of the project, which rises 11 stories and will include 217 apartment units as well as commercial space and a rooftop amenity.

Daniel Corp. and Brasfield & Gorrie, both based in Birmingham, have completed more than 70 projects together across the Southeast.

“We’ve reached this important milestone thanks to the hard work and dedication of our employees, client, and trade partners. We greatly appreciate the opportunity to continue our work within the Camperdown development, and we look forward to completing this residential tower in 2020,” said Brasfield & Gorrie Vice President and Division Manager Ben Barfield.

The 11-story building recently topped out, and is expected to be complete in 2020.

Information from Brasfield & Gorrie shows the project team has used 11,135 cubic yards of concrete, 465 tons of rebar, and 89.3 miles of post-tension cable during construction.

“This topping out is significant and has only been possible because of the partnership of Brasfield & Gorrie, Centennial American Properties, and Daniel, working together with The City of Greenville. It’s a proud moment for all of us and we look forward to welcoming future residents to their beautifully designed and well-appointed homes with best-in-class features and finishes in the heart of downtown Greenville,” said Daniel Executive Vice President Justin Weintraub.

Wakefield Beasley & Associates served as architect.

Brasfield & Gorrie said it is also working with developer Centennial American Properties on other parts of the larger mixed-use development including an office building topped by condominiums.
